

WHAT IS CONTRACT FURNITURE?

Contract furniture, is any type of furniture that is used for commercial purposes. That could be a chair, sofa, or anything in between. Hotels, offices, airports, corporations and more are some of the top purchasers of contract furniture.

Commercial furniture is made to meet the demands of commercial furniture use. Commercial furniture differs from standard household furniture due to the frequency of use and the furniture compliance requirements such as the Crib 5 regulation imposed on some businesses and other entities.

Commercial furniture also differs from household furniture by being a bit more durable to withstand excessive use. Due to the high quality construction required, contract furniture tends to come at a higher price, but lasts a lot longer than most standard furniture.
